DIAGNOSIS

Graves disease, relapsed after a completed course of carbimazole. Treated with oral radioiodine, 12 mCi.

HISTORY

Thyrotoxic since 2021, controlled on carbimazole for eighteen months and relapsed within three months of stopping it. Definitive treatment was discussed at length and radioiodine chosen over surgery.

EXAMINATION

Pulse 104 regular, fine tremor, small diffuse goitre with no bruit. No eye signs. Weight 51.8 kg.

COURSE

Admitted for the day. Pregnancy test negative before dosing. Oral radioiodine given at 10:15 hrs. Observed for four hours with no immediate reaction and discharged the same evening with radiation protection instructions.

TREATMENT

Radioiodine (I-131) 12 mCi orally. Propranolol 20 mg three times daily to continue for six weeks. Carbimazole stopped four days before dosing as planned.

ADVICE

Avoid close contact with children and pregnant women for seven days. Avoid pregnancy for six months. Thyroid function to be checked at six weeks and then every six weeks - hypothyroidism is expected and is not a complication. Report any neck swelling, fever or sore throat at once.
